BABY MAKES
THREE Little Chris' birth reignited the love between the Superman heartthrob and the lovely Spanish model

Family man Dean Cain back with mom & child

SUPERDAD!

SUPERMAN'S got a chip off the old Kryptonite block!

Proud papa Dean Cain is all smiles as he shows off baby Christopher Dean Cain to shoppers near his Malibu, Calif., home. And Little Chris, born June 11, should be nicknamed Cupid, sources say, since his birth helped reignite the love match between his actor dad, 34, and his former Playboy model mom, Samantha Torres, 26.

"The whole family visited several stores in the Malibu Village area, looking at clothes and baby items," an eyewitness tells STAR. "Dean was carrying the baby and showing him off to everyone who approached."

"They looked like the perfect little family as they jumped into a Jaguar and drove off."

Cain and Spanish beauty Torres split shortly before she discovered she was pregnant, sources reveal, but agreed to remain friends for the sake of their child.

But now it looks like their little bundle of joy has brought Cain, who hosts Ripley's Believe It or Not on TBS, and the stunning blonde closer together than ever.

"Dean has had a change of heart," says a source.

"He and Sam have been inseparable ever since Chris was born."

"Now, they're telling friends they'll get married sometime next year!"
