February 2003

Five days before Laci's February 10 due date, her family blasts Scott for selling her Range Rover, indicating he knows she'll never return. On February 18, Modesto police search the home again, seizing 95 items.

March 2003

Modesto police announce on March 5 that they are reclassifying the case from missing person to homicide, dashing the lingering hopes of Laci's family that she might return home safely. Police say Scott is still not considered a suspect.

April 2003

Laci's body is discovered washed ashore off San Francisco Bay on April 14, just a day after Laci's unborn son's body was found. Sporting a facial new look, Scott is arrested on April 18 and charged with the murder of his wife and baby.

June 2003

Scott's former girlfriend, Amber Frey, represented by lawyer Gloria Allred, successfully argues that she should not be under a gag order in the case. But the presiding judge gags Scott's high-profile attorney, Mark Geragos. He also seals the autopsy results.

July 2003

A judge deals a blow to Scott's defense by ruling that his lawyers cannot have access to police files from a similar unsolved murder in San Francisco. Meanwhile, Scott is taunted and jeered by fellow inmates.

October 2003

November 2003

Dean Cain begins filming USA Network's The Perfect Husband, in which he portrays Scott. The two-hour film recreates the painstaking search for Laci, the grim recovery of her remains and
